Privacy Policy

The International Fiscal Association and its subsidiaries (hereinafter “IFA 2018 Seoul“, “we“, “our“, “us“) respect the privacy rights of its online visitors (“you“, “your“, “yours“) and recognise the importance of protecting the information collected about them. IFA has adopted a Privacy Policy that guides how we collect, store and use the information that you provide us with.

- 1) During the Congress, the list of participants will be made available to all participants in hard copy and on the Congress app. The following data are included in the list of participants: each participant’s name, organization, country, and hotel during the Congress and, if applicable, the accompanying persons’ names.
- 2) Sponsors and third parties organising academic and social events around the Congress may be supplied with the list of participants before the Congress. By providing your authorisation to share your personal data with them you may be invited to academic and social events organised around the Congress. The data to be supplied for this purpose are: participant’s name, organisation, country, email address and hotel during the Congress, and, if applicable, the accompanying person’s name. Sponsors and third parties receiving the list are authorised to use it solely for this purpose and only until 7 September, 2018.

The refusal to publish/share the data in the list of participants or to sponsors and other third parties does not preclude the use of the data for the purposes of the Congress registration and management within the terms stated at the end of this form. By completing this registration form you are providing your consent to use your data for these purposes.
